

BANGOR DAILY HERALD & COURIER.

PUBLISHED BY EDWARDS & SMITH IN HILL'S BUILDING, WEST MARKET PLACE, BANGOR, ME.

VOL. V.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1838.

NO. 96.

THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER, is published at Five Dollars a year, payable half yearly in advance. All subscriptions for less than a year, to be paid in advance, and all orders for discontinuance must be given in writing. The BANGOR COURIER is published at the office of the Daily Whig and Courier every Tuesday morning, at Two Dollars a year in advance, or Two Dollars and Fifty Cents, if not paid within six months from the time of subscribing.

ADVERTISERS WILL be inserted in the Whig and Courier on the following conditions only, and these will be strictly observed:

For a square three insertions in daily, weekly, &c. &c. for each week it may be continued.

More than half a square, and less than a square, $1.00 for three insertions and 25 cents for each week it may be continued.

Less than half a square 75 cents for three insertions, and 25 cents for each week it may be continued.

Advertisements marked daily and weekly, will be charged 25 cents for each insertion, & the regular addition to the regular rates to daily.

MORTGAGEES' NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given that I claim by virtue of a Mortgage Dated dated January 14, 1837, from Arnold Dealing to me, a certain piece of land situated in Levant village, described as follows, viz.

Beginning at a stone monument on the west side of the road leading from Bangor to said Village, at the southeast corner of the Tavern owned by Asa Dwyer of Bangor, thence south

32 deg. east, sixty-four feet on the west line of said road, thence south 38 deg. west, seven rods to the Keduskeag stream, thence northwesterly up said stream six and three fourths rods, to the aforesaid

Tavern lot, thence north 34 deg. east to the bounds began at. The condition of said mortgage was, that said Dealing should pay 125 three notes to me dated January 14, 1837, one for four hundred dollars, payable in June, 1838; one for five hundred dollars, payable in June, 1839; and one for five hundred dollars payable in June, 1840; all with interest two hundred and fourteen dollars, and sixty-one cents, having been paid and endorsed on the first of said notes, and the balance remains unpaid; wherefore the subscriber claims to foreclose said Mortgage for breach of the conditions thereof.

ROYAL W. CLARK.
Levant, Oct. 2, 1838. Oct 9 1838.

BLACK SILK VELVET.

FOR Vests, a very superior article. Also a prime assortment of light and dark Vests.

A fine article of Linen, Cambric, white and mixed Knitting Worsted and Cotton, Printed Lawns, Fawn Silks, Chiffons and Taylor's Cotton, Twill, Tapes, &c. &c. Just rec'd. T. G. BROWN & CO.

J. BARTLETT & CO'S.

TROY SHEETINGS.

THE Troy Sheetings 38 in. wide, acknowledged to be the cheapest in the market, are for sale by the bale, piece, or yards; they were purchased from the manufacturer and have not paid the usual commissions, which make a difference of from two to three cents on a yard, also a large assortment of light summer prints for sale by

C. & E. D. GODFREY.
62 Main Street.

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASS.

ANOTHER large lot just received by schooners Free Trade and Albion, making the most complete assortment ever offered in this city, which will be sold cheap for cash.

C. & E. D. GODFREY.
60 Main Street.

PUBLIC RIODICALS.

MUSEUM for July, North American Review, for do. Parley's Magazine, for do. Blackwood, for June, Metropolitan, for do. Bentley. More to follow, do. Family Magazine, for do. No. 66 Rep. of Reviews. Annals of Education for July, Journal of Franklin Institute for June. Rec'd by SMITH & FENNO.

Also, Probus, or Rome in the Third Century, by Wm. Ware; Annex of Burton or the Seiges, by Ingram. Travels in Europe by Wilber Fisk.

SALT.

ONE hundred lbs. Liverpool Salt, for sale, by

JOSEPH BYANT.
COAL, COAL, COAL.

60 CHALDrons Liverpool (England) Coal, a sample of article for Smith's use, now landing from our Inspector, for sale, low, for quantities to our purchasers, by

PILLSBURY & SANDFORD,
Commission Merchants,
17 West Market Place.

GREAT BARGAINS IN QRY.

GOODS.

REED & HATCH are selling their large assortment of summer Dry Goods at reduced prices. Purchasers of Dry Goods will find it greatly to their advantage, to call at 36 Main street before purchasing elsewhere.

416.

DYED YOUNG-CHANGING HAIR.

One dozen Russian Dye for changing the color of red or grey hair to a brown or jet black, which is warranted not to rub off. For sale by

T. G. BROWN & CO.

At No. 6 Main street.

HACKNEY KNEES.

1000 HACKNEY KNEES wanted at
No. 11 Broad Street, for which a fair price will be given by

W. A. BLAKE.

June 30.

VICTIMS OF SOCIETY, by Lady Blessington; Ellen Clifford, or the Genius of Reform, Law's Narrative, a new and attractive edition, The Happy Christian, or piety the only foundation for rest and substantial joy; Parley's Botany; Oliver Twist, part 2; Father's Address to his Daughter, a fine song; Also, more of the music from Mr.
and Mrs. Horn, just rec'd by E. F. DUREN.

Aug 1.

SILKS.

JUST received at No. 11 Broad street, a few pieces more of elegant Silks, amongst them are blank, blue, black, white and checkered. Also, an assortment of Cambric, Muslin, Lace, &c. for July 20.

1000.

REED & HATCH.

1000.

BANGOR, W. J.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1836.

REMOVAL.

Print Office of the Whig and Courier has been removed to the Rooms over the Store of Messrs. Smith & Penn, a few doors below the present stand. Entrance No. 13, West Market Place.

THE ELECTIONS.

Ohio. According to the Van Buren papers, 65 candidates gave a gain of 10,000 votes as compared with the election of 1830, when there was a Whig majority of 6000; and the Van Buren candidate for Governor is probably elected. In the Legislature there are a number of changes. The W. J. election & majority in both branches. Of this however there may be some doubt. Politics will be very equally divided, and it is impossible to say which will have the majority. Last year there was a small Whig majority in both branches. The members of Congress so elected are as follows:

Thomas Corwin.	Alexander Duncan,
William K. Bond.	John C. Weller,
Joseph Ridgway,	William Duran,
Samson Mason.	William Medlin,
Joshua A. Giddings.	Isaac Parish,
John W. Allen.	Josiah L. Taylor,
	D. P. Leadbetter,
	George Sweeney,
	John Hastings,
	D. A. Starkweather,
	Henry Swearingen.

Two more districts, now reported as Whigs, remain to be heard from. The present delegation consists of 11 Whigs and 8 Loco Foco.

The editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, in accounting for the result of the Ohio election, numbers, in addition to the arrest of Rev. Mr. Mahan, on a warrant from the Governor of Kentucky, charged with kidnapping and enticing away slaves; the following causes:

The information we have received of election results, is altogether unfavorable to the Whigs. We shall not be surprised at a decided rout, and for myself, it is what I have anticipated. My apprehensions were grounded upon my own observation of facts.

There was a vigorous, undiscriminating appetite to be candidates among the Whigs, which created rivalries and heart-burnings, destructive of public spirit.

There was a rude and offensive disregard of the Conservatives, of the most impolitic character. And this proceeded chiefly from the greediness of Whigs to be put in nomination.

There was but little jealousy on presidential preferences, that worked dissatisfaction and bad humor.

And, worst of all, there was the undercurrent of abolitionism, bearing generally, with great effect against the Whigs for every office and most especially for the office of Governor.

Nearly balanced as are the political parties in Ohio, any one of these facts was sufficient to jeopardize the election. The blindness that could not, or the perverseness that would not see the most palpable consequence, or the selfishness that seeing it, determined to risk the cause, rather than relinquish personal pretensions, were any one of them sufficient to render certain the defeat which has overtaken us. The whole combined seem to have been irresistible.

Mr. Kilgore, a Conservative member of Congress, has resigned his seat, in consequence of Mr. Swearington, a Sub-Treasury man, having been chosen from his district to the next Congress.

On the result of Mr. Bond's re-election to Congress from the seventh Congressional district, the Charlottesville Gazette remarks, "In spite of all the money which was lavished to defeat us, both from the powers that be, at Washington, and by the wealthy candidate of the Van Buren party, in spite of all the slanderous lies which were put about, and industriously circulated by his minions, the Whigs have nobly vindicated their honor and their principles, and have rebuked their opponents in an exemplary manner."

We have given some particulars of the base and unjustifiable evasions taken by Charles J. Ingersoll to thrust himself into Congress. The following will show more fully how he has been beaten in the attempt:

The Third Congressional district is in the county. On Friday the return judges, that is to say, for each district of the county, met in Independence Hall to make out their returns. When it appeared evident that Charles Nayler was elected over Ingersoll by more than seven hundred votes, when suddenly it was discovered that the 'tally list' of votes for the Seventh ward, (a Loco Foco place in the Northern Liberties) was missing. And in this situation Mr. Ingersoll thrust himself into the Hall and commenced a cab. He declared that because the 7th had lost its tally list, the vote of the whole district of the Northern Liberties should be thrown out.

This would elect him of course, and three of the judges argued that he was right. The Whigs refused to yield. After disputing and discussing until late in the evening, the ten Loco Foco judges of the county retired, when the three Whig judges of the third district as in duty bound deducted the votes of the 7th ward, which were not properly vouchered for, and returned the Whig Senators and Assemblymen, and made their report to the Sheriff, who signed the returns and sent them on to Harrisburg.

Next morning the Loco Focos found out their mistake, and turned up the tally list of the 7th ward, and the ten Loco judges made out returns with Loco members of Legislature, but the sheriff of course, would not receive them, as they were not vouchered by law to stand only one. The discovery of the 7th ward tally list of course threw Mr. Nayler, so that Mr. Ingersoll is beaten out at any rate, but his anxiety for himself has jarred his party ticket so much, that it is now the object of general meditation to know what to do with him.

Dr. Wood and Mrs. of Orons, Me., have sailed in the ship Carma, for the CONNECTICUT. NEW HAVEN. — A report gives an account of the dreadful death of Mr. John McLean, under the following circumstances: He was the driver of a horse and carriage, and the horses ran away, and that rats, fleas, and all longing to another person. One evening he came home, and complained of a cold; he took some gruff and went to bed. On the following day, large lumps or swellings began to appear, under the jaw and on the nose, which, with the eyes, emitted a great deal of running. The eyes gradually became worse, and full of holes, and the nose and jaw broke out in dreadful sores. Medical aid was called in, but the physician was unable to tell the nature of his disease. He was then carried to Sir Astley Cooper, who on examination pronounced it to be the glanders, caught from a horse. The unfortunate man gradually became worse, and entirely insensible; all the time being of no avail. In the space of two days his nose fell from his face, a sight of his eyes became like a gander, and emitted a thick inuous running. About fifteen minutes before his death, he recovered his senses, and stated that he had got his death by wiping the horse, which was glandered, with his pocket handkerchief, and then insensibly using it to wipe his own nose. He expired, in the most excruciating agony, his face being entirely eaten away, and the whole body being one mass of sores.

NEW YORK. — At the meeting of the W. J. election & majority in both branches. Of this however there may be some doubt. Politics will be very equally divided, and it is impossible to say which will have the majority. Last year there was a small Whig majority in both branches. The members of Congress so elected are as follows:

Thomas Corwin.

William K. Bond.

Joseph Ridgway.

Samson Mason.

Joshua A. Giddings.

John W. Allen.

D. P. Leadbetter.

George Sweeney.

John Hastings.

D. A. Starkweather.

Henry Swearingen.

Two more districts, now reported as Whigs, remain to be heard from. The present delegation consists of 11 Whigs and 8 Loco Foco.

The editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, in accounting for the result of the Ohio election, numbers, in addition to the arrest of Rev. Mr. Mahan, on a warrant from the Governor of Kentucky, charged with kidnapping and enticing away slaves; the following causes:

The information we have received of election results, is altogether unfavorable to the Whigs. We shall not be surprised at a decided rout, and for myself, it is what I have anticipated. My apprehensions were grounded upon my own observation of facts.

There was a vigorous, undiscriminating appetite to be candidates among the Whigs, which created rivalries and heart-burnings, destructive of public spirit.

There was a rude and offensive disregard of the Conservatives, of the most impolitic character. And this proceeded chiefly from the greediness of Whigs to be put in nomination.

There was but little jealousy on presidential preferences, that worked dissatisfaction and bad humor.

And, worst of all, there was the undercurrent of abolitionism, bearing generally, with great effect against the Whigs for every office and most especially for the office of Governor.

Nearly balanced as are the political parties in Ohio, any one of these facts was sufficient to jeopardize the election. The blindness that could not, or the perverseness that would not see the most palpable consequence, or the selfishness that seeing it, determined to risk the cause, rather than relinquish personal pretensions, were any one of them sufficient to render certain the defeat which has overtaken us. The whole combined seem to have been irresistible.

Mr. Kilgore, a Conservative member of Congress, has resigned his seat, in consequence of Mr. Swearington, a Sub-Treasury man, having been chosen from his district to the next Congress.

On the result of Mr. Bond's re-election to Congress from the seventh Congressional district, the Charlottesville Gazette remarks, "In spite of all the money which was lavished to defeat us, both from the powers that be, at Washington, and by the wealthy candidate of the Van Buren party, in spite of all the slanderous lies which were put about, and industriously circulated by his minions, the Whigs have nobly vindicated their honor and their principles, and have rebuked their opponents in an exemplary manner."

We have given some particulars of the base and unjustifiable evasions taken by Charles J. Ingersoll to thrust himself into Congress. The following will show more fully how he has been beaten in the attempt:

The Third Congressional district is in the county. On Friday the return judges, that is to say, for each district of the county, met in Independence Hall to make out their returns. When it appeared evident that Charles Nayler was elected over Ingersoll by more than seven hundred votes, when suddenly it was discovered that the 'tally list' of votes for the Seventh ward, (a Loco Foco place in the Northern Liberties) was missing. And in this situation Mr. Ingersoll thrust himself into the Hall and commenced a cab. He declared that because the 7th had lost its tally list, the vote of the whole district of the Northern Liberties should be thrown out.

This would elect him of course, and three of the judges argued that he was right. The Whigs refused to yield. After disputing and discussing until late in the evening, the ten Loco Foco judges of the county retired, when the three Whig judges of the third district as in duty bound deducted the votes of the 7th ward, which were not properly vouchered for, and returned the Whig Senators and Assemblymen, and made their report to the Sheriff, who signed the returns and sent them on to Harrisburg.

Next morning the Loco Focos found out their mistake, and turned up the tally list of the 7th ward, and the ten Loco judges made out returns with Loco members of Legislature, but the sheriff of course, would not receive them, as they were not vouchered by law to stand only one. The discovery of the 7th ward tally list of course threw Mr. Nayler, so that Mr. Ingersoll is beaten out at any rate, but his anxiety for himself has jarred his party ticket so much, that it is now the object of general meditation to know what to do with him.

Dr. Wood and Mrs. of Orons, Me., have sailed in the ship Carma, for the

NEW YORK. — At the meeting of the W. J. election & majority in both branches. Of this however there may be some doubt. Politics will be very equally divided, and it is impossible to say which will have the majority. Last year there was a small Whig majority in both branches. The members of Congress so elected are as follows:

Thomas Corwin.

William K. Bond.

Joseph Ridgway.

Samson Mason.

Joshua A. Giddings.

John W. Allen.

D. P. Leadbetter.

George Sweeney.

John Hastings.

D. A. Starkweather.

Henry Swearingen.

Two more districts, now reported as Whigs, remain to be heard from. The present delegation consists of 11 Whigs and 8 Loco Foco.

The editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, in accounting for the result of the Ohio election, numbers, in addition to the arrest of Rev. Mr. Mahan, on a warrant from the Governor of Kentucky, charged with kidnapping and enticing away slaves; the following causes:

The information we have received of election results, is altogether unfavorable to the Whigs. We shall not be surprised at a decided rout, and for myself, it is what I have anticipated. My apprehensions were grounded upon my own observation of facts.

There was a vigorous, undiscriminating appetite to be candidates among the Whigs, which created rivalries and heart-burnings, destructive of public spirit.

There was a rude and offensive disregard of the Conservatives, of the most impolitic character. And this proceeded chiefly from the greediness of Whigs to be put in nomination.

There was but little jealousy on presidential preferences, that worked dissatisfaction and bad humor.

And, worst of all, there was the undercurrent of abolitionism, bearing generally, with great effect against the Whigs for every office and most especially for the office of Governor.

Nearly balanced as are the political parties in Ohio, any one of these facts was sufficient to jeopardize the election. The blindness that could not, or the perverseness that would not see the most palpable consequence, or the selfishness that seeing it, determined to risk the cause, rather than relinquish personal pretensions, were any one of them sufficient to render certain the defeat which has overtaken us. The whole combined seem to have been irresistible.

Mr. Kilgore, a Conservative member of Congress, has resigned his seat, in consequence of Mr. Swearington, a Sub-Treasury man, having been chosen from his district to the next Congress.

On the result of Mr. Bond's re-election to Congress from the seventh Congressional district, the Charlottesville Gazette remarks, "In spite of all the money which was lavished to defeat us, both from the powers that be, at Washington, and by the wealthy candidate of the Van Buren party, in spite of all the slanderous lies which were put about, and industriously circulated by his minions, the Whigs have nobly vindicated their honor and their principles, and have rebuked their opponents in an exemplary manner."

We have given some particulars of the base and unjustifiable evasions taken by Charles J. Ingersoll to thrust himself into Congress. The following will show more fully how he has been beaten in the attempt:

The Third Congressional district is in the county. On Friday the return judges, that is to say, for each district of the county, met in Independence Hall to make out their returns. When it appeared evident that Charles Nayler was elected over Ingersoll by more than seven hundred votes, when suddenly it was discovered that the 'tally list' of votes for the Seventh ward, (a Loco Foco place in the Northern Liberties) was missing. And in this situation Mr. Ingersoll thrust himself into the Hall and commenced a cab. He declared that because the 7th had lost its tally list, the vote of the whole district of the Northern Liberties should be thrown out.

This would elect him of course, and three of the judges argued that he was right. The Whigs refused to yield. After disputing and discussing until late in the evening, the ten Loco Foco judges of the county retired, when the three Whig judges of the third district as in duty bound deducted the votes of the 7th ward, which were not properly vouchered for, and returned the Whig Senators and Assemblymen, and made their report to the Sheriff, who signed the returns and sent them on to Harrisburg.

Next morning the Loco Focos found out their mistake, and turned up the tally list of the 7th ward, and the ten Loco judges made out returns with Loco members of Legislature, but the sheriff of course, would not receive them, as they were not vouchered by law to stand only one. The discovery of the 7th ward tally list of course threw Mr. Nayler, so that Mr. Ingersoll is beaten out at any rate, but his anxiety for himself has jarred his party ticket so much, that it is now the object of general meditation to know what to do with him.

Dr. Wood and Mrs. of Orons, Me., have sailed in the ship Carma, for the CONNECTICUT. NEW HAVEN. — A report gives an account of the dreadful death of Mr. John McLean, under the following circumstances: He was the driver of a horse and carriage, and the horses ran away, and that rats, fleas, and all longing to another person. One evening he came home, and complained of a cold; he took some gruff and went to bed. On the following day, large lumps or swellings began to appear, under the jaw and on the nose, which, with the eyes, emitted a great deal of running. The eyes gradually became worse, and full of holes, and the nose and jaw broke out in dreadful sores. Medical aid was called in, but the physician was unable to tell the nature of his disease. He was then carried to Sir Astley Cooper, who on examination pronounced it to be the glanders, caught from a horse. The unfortunate man gradually became worse, and entirely insensible; all the time being of no avail. In the space of two days his nose fell from his face, a sight of his eyes became like a gander, and emitted a thick inuous running. About fifteen minutes before his death, he recovered his senses, and stated that he had got his death by wiping the horse, which was glandered, with his pocket handkerchief, and then insensibly using it to wipe his own nose. He expired, in the most excruciating agony, his face being entirely eaten away, and the whole body being one mass of sores.

NEW YORK. — At the meeting of the W. J. election & majority in both branches. Of this however there may be some doubt. Politics will be very equally divided, and it is impossible to say which will have the majority. Last year there was a small Whig majority in both branches. The members of Congress so elected are as follows:

Thomas Corwin.

William K. Bond.

Joseph Ridgway.

Samson Mason.

Joshua A. Giddings.

John W. Allen.

D. P. Leadbetter.

George Sweeney.

John Hastings.

D. A. Starkweather.

Henry Swearingen.

Two more districts, now reported as Whigs, remain to be heard from. The present delegation consists of 11 Whigs and 8 Loco Foco.

The editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, in accounting for the result of the Ohio election, numbers, in addition to the arrest of Rev. Mr. Mahan, on a warrant from the Governor of Kentucky, charged with kidnapping and enticing away slaves; the following causes:

The information we have received of election results, is altogether unfavorable to the Whigs. We shall not be surprised at a decided rout, and for myself, it is what I have anticipated. My apprehensions were grounded upon my own observation of facts.

There was a

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

